American Prose

Selected and Edited with Illustrative and Explanatory Notes and a Bibliography

By WALTER C. BRONSON

Companion Volume to *American Poems

This volume of selections from the prose literature of our country will at once take its proper position as a standard work for classroom use, as well as for private reading. The editor has followed the modern tendency in books of selections, toward including fewer authors and giving more space to each. He has selected material which is specially adapted for careful study in class. Most teachers will welcome the abundance of selections from such authors as Poe, Emerson, and Hawthorne, which illustrate the different phases of their work far better than one story or one essay could. The three orations by Calhoun, Webster, and Lincoln will also prove valuable for reading or classroom work: they have a kind of unity, all dealing with the big question of slavery and the Union, yet from different points of view.

AMERICAN POEMS

Selected and Edited with Illustrative and Explanatory Notes and a Bibliography

BY

WALTER C. BRONSON, LITT.D

Professor of English Literature
Brown University

THE book offers a most carefully chosen and well-balanced presentation of the poetic works of Americans, covering the entire period of our history. For the teacher as well as the student the value of the work is greatly enhanced by the comprehensive Notes, Bibliography, and Index. The book enjoys the wide popularity of Mr. Bronson's earlier collection, English Poems, which has been adopted by all leading American colleges.

Oral and Written English

Book One and Book Two

By POTTER, JESCHKE, and GILLET

Why have these important cities selected these books? Because they stress the best methods of the best teachers in the best schools. With continual and various appeals to real motives for speaking and writing, oral and written composition is made a delight. Interest is maintained through a wide diversity of exercises, including story-telling, dramatization, studies of poems and of pictures, games, the writing of letters, telegrams, and advertisements, correction exercises, and many other devices. Throughout the books there is a clear-cut separation of grammar that is immediately usable from grammar whose interest is more remote.

America's Slogan: Freedom, For All, Forever!

Now is the time for all American children to hear and learn to sing the stirring patriotic songs of our country,—the music which is inspiring the boys of Uncle Sam's Army and Navy, who are helping to win the war.

Now, if never before, our boys and girls should know the good old folk melodies of America, and the wholesome, hearty country dances of our pioneer forefathers.

The First Week in September is to be The National Week of Recreation.

Many old American Country Dances, recently revived by Elizabeth Burchenal and featured, with full directions, in her new book on "American Country Dances" (Published by G. Schirmer), have been recorded by the Victor Company under her direction.

The Victrola and Victor Records

are the best means by which these old American country dances may be brought into your school and community festivals. They are simple, tuneful, charming, easily taught, and have a truly American flavor.

Ask to hear the following records played by the Victor Military Band, at your dealer's:

- 18490 { Old Dan Tucker
White Cockade
- 18491 { Green Mountain Volunteers

STUDIES IN LITERATURE

A HISTORY OF ENGLISH LITERATURE

$1.25 net

By ROBERT H. FLETCHER, Professor of English Literature, Grinnell College

"Admirably complete and readable. It should by all means be considered by those instructors and teachers who need a book that covers the whole period in a well balanced and scholarly way, but without loss of human interest."—A. C. F. Beebewrotz, Professor of English, Syracuse University.

"There are many things I like about the book. It is comprehensive, yet the author has known how to omit the irrelevant. It is condensed, yet written with a richness of colorful specific detail. The treatment of the individual authors is admirably balanced and the method for study and explanatory material for specific works are where they should be."—Allison Gaw, Department of English, University of Southern California.

THE STORY OF ENGLISH SPEECH

$1.50 net

By CHARLES NOBLE, Professor of English Language and Rhetoric, Grinnell College

"Professor Noble puts into brief space a lucid and readable sketch of the origin and development of our language from the earliest times to the present day."—Boston Transcript.

A HISTORY OF ENGLISH BALLADRY

$2.00 net

By FRANK EGBERT BRYANT, Late Associate Professor of English, University of Kansas

"A significant contribution to our library of critical investigation in the field of English."—The Dial.

ENGLISH ESSAYISTS

$1.25 net

By WILLIAM H. DAVIS, Professor of English, Bowdoin College

A volume of intimate lifelike studies of all the important essayists from Montaigne to Stevenson.

"For one who desires a compact and simple book on the greater English essayists, this will prove valuable. The book is right to the point and gives within a few pages the important facts about the life and work of each essayist. In well chosen words he gives expression to that writer's distinctive qualities."—Springfield Union.

"Believing that a plodding, matter-of-fact biography is not adequate for real appreciation of the works of the great essayists, the book gives us a handbook which contains all the needed information but which makes fascinating reading as well. The book accomplishes what must be the purpose of every textbook on literature—it leads us to read the works of the authors considered."—Philadelphia Book News.

HAMLET, AN IDEAL PRINCE

$1.50 net

By A. W. CRAWFORD, Professor of English, University of Manitoba

"Professor Crawford's thesis is that, heretofore, in Shakespearean interpretation too much attention has been paid to character studies and not enough to study of the construction of Shakespeare's plots and the development of his narratives. In this book are presented the results of a careful study of these plays according to the modern method of endeavoring to look at them as dramas and as Elizabethan productions.

"Professor Crawford's interpretations of the plays are novel and interesting. He has thrown fresh light on a number of vexed questions."—Springfield Republican.

"The working principle is an excellent one, and very simple; namely, to let Shakespeare speak for himself. Professor Crawford develops his thesis well, and the essays will be both interesting and suggestive to students of the great dramatist."—New York American.

SHAKESPEARE STUDY PROGRAMS (2 volumes each) $1.00 net

By CHARLOTTE PORTER and HELEN A. CLARKE, Editors of "Poet Lore"

I. The Tragedies II. The Comedies

"I think the plan and scope of your work excellent. I am sure that whoever studies your programs will rejoice in the possession of a new and varied conception of the play."—Horace Howard Furness.

"The programmes for Shakespeare study prepared by the Misses Porter and Clarke are the best I have ever seen—indeed, they are so much superior to the others that I know of none that (to borrow the Horatian phrase) deserves to be counted even second to them."—Dr. W. J. Rolfe.

BROWNING STUDIES

$1.50 net

By VERNON C. HARRINGTON, Assistant Professor of English, Middlebury College

"An introduction to Browning containing lucid interpretations of all the so-called abstruse passages which have caused unthinking people to believe that it is not possible to understand Browning."—The Boston Transcript.

"Professor Harrington's book gives just the help one needs to sort out the real treasures from the mass of the poet's work, and the facts and clues necessary to their full enjoyment. The very classroom plan of the volume adds to its usefulness, and philological materials are given to form a complete introduction to Browning."—New York Independent.

Bausch<sup>and</sup> Lomb Balopticon

THE PERFECT STEREOPTICON

Adds interest and effectiveness to English classes. You can project the pupils' themes on the screen so that the whole class may read and criticize them. Wrong constructions, grammatical errors, misspelled words, etc., will be driven home, if the pupils can see their mistakes confronting them on a brilliant screen. The Balopticon will project directly from an essay sheet. It is equipped with the new gas-filled Mazda Lamp, which is absolutely automatic in operation.

Because of the demands made upon our resources for some of the government's most important military needs, we are unable to make Balopticon deliveries for the present. While proud to be of such service in this world-crisis, we shall expect to serve our other patrons even more efficiently than before, when the world is again at peace.
